MEMORANDUM FOR COLONEL AUSTIN

A Croat friend of mine has just written me a letter about "Vaso Trivnovitch," a man who has been in the news lately. Some of Croat broadcast stations have started carrying the "Vaso Trivnovitch" broadcast system in the last few days. He has been in the telephone that what he said is that he has been in the news recently. He has the copy of a speech that he has been in the news recently. On the subject of Trivnovitch, the "Vaso Trivnovitch" broadcast system refused to broadcast the speech, on the ground that it contained no reference to the Greater-Serbian cause but only Serbs and Serbian people, and was therefore not directly affecting the Yugoslav unity and, therefore, the solidarity of the whole Allied anti-Axis front. I must add that recently Vaso Trivnovitch has not been on the beat of news with Minister Jotitch because of the latter's alleged conspiring of the Greater-Serbian cause. Vaso Trivnovitch is the nephew of the late Yugoslav statesman, Svetozar Pribichovich, whose son, Stoyan (a friend and close relative of Vaso Trivnovitch) is one of the editors of FORTUNE magazine."

For your information, there is at present a battle going on among the Yugoslavs in which the technique of snake venom thereby has reached an all time high. At least, it has been strong. And the slaying questions are great and...

MEMORANDUM

Murry Brophy

Mr. William Kimbol

I desire by means of this memorandum to provide in detail the facts concerning the negotiations with the Mexican Embassy regarding the exchange on our part of a 50 kw short wave transmitter for, on the part of the Mexicans, the Brinkley 20 kw medium wave transmitter which was located at Las Vacas opposite El Rio, Texas.

Early in March when I was advised that the Mexican government was proceeding to expropriate the transmitter which was operated by the late Dr. Brinkley, we entered into negotiations with the Mexican Embassy following an appointment arranged by your office.

We were referred to Sr. Salvador Duhart, First Secretary of the Embassy. Mr. Duhart was interested and agreed to the exchange. On March 23 I wrote Mr. Duhart confirming our conservation of the Brinkley transmitter and stated "I desire to express our thanks for graciously agreeing to withhold shipment to Mexico City of the transmitter until methods of securing a 50 kw replacement with proper antennae have been completed."

One of the reasons why the Mexican government agreed to the exchange was their inability to harness and operate the powerful Brinkley transmitter.

Despite their agreement, which was confirmed by letter, the Mexican government shipped the Brinkley transmitter to Mexico City where, parenthetically, it probably is deteriorating rapidly because of the lack of engineering talent and proper safeguards.

As soon as I learned that the transmitter was being shipped to the Mexican capital, I repeatedly attempted to get in touch with Mr. Duhart. He failed to answer either telephone calls or other messages.

During my absence from the office, my assistant, Major Stern, continued to get in touch with Sr. Duhart, but on each occasion that Sr. Duhart was absent and would return the promised to do, both in answer to my telephone calls

Mr. Klabel

I need not emphasize to you the importance of this to our powerful medium wave transmitter. It is an integral part of our overall program and speed is necessary. Because of the necessary delay in transportation and engineering, it is in a position.

Today I finally managed to get a contact on the telephone and protested the shipment of the medium wave transmitter to Mexico City. He could offer no satisfactory explanation for the delay and it was returned to me so that it would be accessible for our future use.

I feel that the importance of the transmitter is such that you should be advised of the delay and would appreciate your cooperation regarding further steps.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM

TO: Chief of Staff

FROM: J. B. [illegible]

SUBJECT: [illegible]

This matter has been discussed with [illegible]

and any further action [illegible]

Mr. Wigglesworth has no information that his family is safe in this country. Neither Mrs. Wigglesworth nor her husband. She was in contact with him via a radio message, the message which he will still acknowledge, and he is assured that he and the daughter are safe and well. The party in the jungle has radio receiving equipment.

Accordingly Mrs. Wigglesworth, in a letter, acknowledged the radio message. She is satisfied that this message will provide information that would in any way compromise the safety of her husband. That letter was forwarded to your department by Mr. John L. Halderston, one of your friends. Its receipt was acknowledged by Mr. J. B. Warburg, an Assistant of your department. His original letter is attached.

Dear Virginia — John just sent me this memo to pass on to you — Colonel

Handwritten text, likely a memorandum or report, consisting of several lines of cursive script. The text is mostly illegible due to the quality of the scan and the handwriting. Some words are difficult to decipher, but the structure appears to be a formal document. There are some small marks and symbols scattered throughout the page, possibly indicating corrections or specific points of interest.

The rest of the story you know, I believe, and I think you feel as I do that even this little bit of a message, if received, will help tremendously these people there who do not even know whether their families are alive or dead. Especially it would be such a help to Gerri and I his group who are isolated completely from all communication with anyone except for the receiving of news over radio.

It is so nice of you to offer to help in this and I could just even know whether the message had been sent or not. I could send that knowledge on to the wives here who are so anxious to know.

Much love to you and Aunt Eliza;
Virginia.
